

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision is deeply regrettable if highly predictable. What is really saddening to me is how totally partisan the FCC has become.

Your decision, Chairman Powell, is a shockingly callous slap in the face of the essential values that ought to govern the Commission.

Your cowardly decision to throw your hands in the air and act as if there's simply nothing you can do really disgusts me.

You disgust me, Chairman Powell. You were so worried about protecting us from a nipple but someone using the media to take a shit on our democracy doesn't seem to trouble you at all.

Without your daddy you're just an overpromoted gutless bureaucrat.

Sincerely,

Josh Powell
